

WEATHER-FAIR AND WARMER.

Public

Ledger

MAYSVILLE, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, AUGUST 26, 1915.

ONE COPY-ONE CENT.

The lawyer's gruffness found no pause. It caused me consternation; but he was cross because it was a cross-examination.

BANNER DAY

OF GREAT $2,400 PRIZE RACE WILL BE SATURDAY, AUGUST 28.—CANDIDATES ARE STRIVING TO MAKE GREAT SHOWING NOW AND WIN GOLD AND EXTRA VOTES.

Tick-tick, tick-tick, tick-tick. Every swing of the pendulum brings the close of the special gold and vote offer in the Daily Bulletin-Public Ledger automobile campaign that much nearer. The minutes tick away and lengthen into hours, and only a few hours remain before the giving of extra votes and gold prizes will stop. Just two days there are, and when the hands point to the hour of 9 Saturday night, the greatest special inducement offered during the campaign will cease.

Candidates throughout the Daily Bulletin-Public Ledger territory are watching the clock, for every moment counts with them. To bring in their subscriptions before the closing hour means a jump in the vote standing that will place them right smack up where they can see visions of a magnificent automobile standing in front of their own door.

Also, those who have been plying their time industriously can picture a whole handful of gold—enough to visit all the stores and buy "deadends" to their heart's content; other can see their names on passbooks showing tidy sums in the bank to their credit.

As the time is drawing nearer for the close of this special offer, excitement becomes tense; practically every one of the candidates is making a vigorous effort to be the highest or at least among the highest.

Each $15 worth of subscriptions entitles the candidate to 75,000 extra votes and every candidate is privileged to secure as many clubs as possible. Two clubs mean 150,000 extra votes, four clubs mean 300,000 extra votes, etc.

The gold offer comprises $100, divided into six prizes as follows: For Maysville, $25, $15 and $10, and for candidates outside of Maysville, $25, $15 and $10.

FINE SPIRIT SHOWN.

The eloquent manner in which the candidates are making themselves contenders for these prizes is bound to gain them their ends, for each and every one of them is strong in the determination to be at the top when the clock strikes 9.

Candidates who live in outlying sections and can not call personally at the campaign office to turn in their subscriptions may mail them from their local postoffice.

Candidates everywhere are working like Trojans now to take full advantage of the special offers which end next Saturday night and indications are that a big rush will feature the close of this special offer.

Beginning today the standing of all candidates will be published daily, so all candidates desirous of publishing any votes should deposit them in the ballot box.

The end of the contest is rapidly approaching and the Contest Manager wishes to impress on each candidate the fact that the race positively ends as advertised on Saturday, September 11, 1915.

NEGRO MURDERED

SHELBY CLARK STABBED AT GERMANTOWN WEDNESDAY NIGHT—ARREST OF OFFENDER EXPECTED SOON.

Wednesday night about 9 o'clock Shelby Clark, colored, aged 26, of this city, was stabbed at Germantown. Clark, it seems, was engaged in shooting dice at a barn near the Germantown Fairgrounds when heated words brought knives into play and he received a stab in the femoral artery from which he bled to death.

Who did the stabbing is not known for certain, but several persons are under suspicion and arrests are to be made in a few hours.

The stabbing took place near a barn that is used to stable stock of the exhibitors at the fair. A crowd of the sports who attended the fair Wednesday gathered about and soon a hot game of "craps" was going in full blast. Clark, it is said, was winning all the money and got into an argument with a couple of the participants and they jumped on him, one of the using a knife and inflicting the death-wound.

As soon as the fight started the crowd which had been watching the game dispersed and no two witnesses of the fight are given alike. Clark was found bleeding profusely and fast growing weak from the loss of blood. He called Mose Walker, colored, also of this city, and said something to him but what it was is not known. It is thought, however, that he divulged the name of the man who inflicted the fatal wound.

Clark soon died from the loss of blood and Coroner Charles Slack was notified. After a brief investigation the coroner ordered the body brought to this city where it was placed in the undertaking parlors of Myall & Calvert.

As soon as it is possible the county officials will hold an inquest and try to learn the details of the death.

Passengers carried to and from Germantown Fair. Three trips daily. See Stephenson's Garage for particulars. 22 East Second street. 24-5-6

COLONELS TAKE THIRD GAME FROM COBBLERS

MAYSVILLE AGAIN DEFEATS PORTSMOUTH BY THE SCORE OF SEVEN TO TWO.

Maysville won her tenth straight game Wednesday when she triumphed the Portsmouth aggregation to the tune of 7 to 2.

The game was well played and all who attended were satisfied with the playing of both teams.

Manager Devore's condition again did not allow him to play and Catcher DeBerry piloted the team to victory. He started in all departments of the game, driving in three runs by his timely bingles and catching a stellar game. He was ably assisted by "Muck" McGraynor and Tipton in the hitting, while Emmer, Kelly, Tipton and Henderson, the "big four," were the whole cheese in the fielding. Emmer especially starring.

Dillhoff, of Portsmouth, was the only one of the opponents who could get to the shoots of Brown with any effect and he got two hits of the six allowed the Cobblers.

Today is Tag Day and the game will be the last the Portsmouth boys play here this season. Test will probably pitch for them while Big Boy Winchell or Winnie French will twirl for the locals. Get a tag and come out.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Carl Ridgley, of Huntington, has joined the Charleston O. S. L. team and will play short, taking the place of Daubert, who has been sold to Pittsburg.

Kemper Shelton, former manager and star center fielder of the Maysville team, and who has been playing with the Columbus American Association team for several years, has been sold to the New York Americans and played his first game Wednesday.

Lawrence Henderson, pitching for Charleston in the Ohio State League, at Charleston Wednesday, shut out Fronton in a double header, not a hit being allowed in the first game. Three Fronton players reached first base in the opening contest, two on bases on balls and another on an error. Henderson allowed five hits in the last game. Dan Harding pitched both games for the visitors, allowing three hits in the first and five in the last game.

Richard "Rube" Marquard, left-handed pitcher, has been sold by the New York Nationals to the Toronto club of the International League. Under the terms of the transaction, the Giants are to get Pitcher Herbert from the Canadian team. It is understood that all major league clubs waived claim to Marquard because of their unwillingness to pay the high salary which his contract calls for. This salary will undoubtedly be paid off by the two clubs. Marquard declared his unwillingness to join the Toronto club and wants his unconditional release. Marquard came to New York in 1908 when $11,000 was paid to the Indianapolis club for him.

Miss Ollie Cord, of Covington, is the guest of her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Harrison, of Commerce street.

PLEA FOR TIME HALTS DECISION IN ARABIC CASE.

WASHINGTON, August 24.—Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador communicated to the State Department today, instructions from his government expressing regret and sympathy if Americans lost their lives in the sinking of the liner Arabic, and asking that the United States delay taking a definite stand in regard to the affair until Germany could be heard from.

This was the first word from an official German source concerning the Arabic, on which two Americans perished. Its receipt was followed by an evident relaxation of the tension which has been growing here in days passed with no indication of a desire on Germany's part to disclaim an intention of committing an act deliberately unfriendly, toward the United States. No attempt was made either at the State Department or the White House to interpret the ambassador's communication. Officials merely said that of course the American government would await the German explanation of the action of the submarine commander in sinking the liner.

Count Von Bernstorff telegraphed the State Department from New York the text of his instructions from Berlin. It follows:

"The German ambassador received the following instructions from Berlin which he communicates to the Department of State:

"So far no official information available concerning the sinking of the Arabic. The German government trusts that the American government will not take a definite stand at hearing only the reports of one side which in the opinion of the Imperial German government can not correspond with the facts but that a chance will be given to Germany to be heard equally. Although the Imperial government does not doubt the good faith of the witnesses whose statements are reported by the newspapers in Europe it should be borne in mind that these statements are naturally made under excitement which might easily produce wrong impressions. If Americans should actually have lost lives this would naturally be contrary to our intentions.

"The German government would deeply regret the fact and begs to tender sincere sympathies to the American government."

The ambassador made no comment upon the statement and an attaché said that it spoke for itself.

FRENCH CREDIT PLAN ADOPTED SUCCESSFULLY.

New York, August 26.—Announcement was made by Brown Brothers & Company that arrangements for a $20,000,000 French commercial export credit assured.

"The purpose of the credit," says the bankers in their announcement, "is to enable American exporters to be paid in dollars in the United States, eliminating any risk of exchange, and thus facilitating our exports. It will also enable French buyers of American merchandise and other commodities who have found it difficult owing to extraordinary conditions now prevailing, to obtain exchange with which to settle their accounts with American merchants."

Five British financiers, and not three as originally reported, probably will represent Great Britain in arranging a foreign credit here to meet bills for munitions and other supplies due American exporters according to advances said to have been received by New York financiers from London.

It was considered possible that this deputation of five would discuss the issuance of a joint credit loan to Great Britain, France and Russia, but bankers here declined to discuss this evening until after the arrival of the London financiers in New York.

No marked developments or changes in the foreign exchange situation are anticipated until after the arrival.

F. C. Howe

On The Advantages of Free Ports

Mr. F. C. Howe, Federal Commissioner of Immigration, who is one of the best American authorities on marine commerce, in discussing the relation of free ports to the development of sea trade said in part:

"Ships will go hundreds of miles out of their way to avoid ports surrounded by a tariff wall. The only way, therefore, for a country with a tariff to compete in the shipping world with a free-trade country is to establish free ports at strategic points along its coast line. Germany has done so, and in a comparatively short period has built up a carrying trade which before the war was seriously threatening England's supremacy. Hamburg, one of the three German free ports, now ranks as the second greatest seaport in the world, its total foreign commerce in 1913 being only $6,000,000 under that of New York.

"The free port would offer great opportunity for financial operations, now made possible by the recent currency act. It would stimulate international banking, and would tend to shift the financial center of the world to this country. And America, by the logic of events, has become the natural center for the world's financing. Just as London became that center several centuries ago, when it shifted from the cities of the Netherlands. But the financial center will only move to this country when it becomes a clearing house of goods as well as of money. For credit the world over is created by currently created wealth in transit or change so that our financial expansion is dependent upon the opening up of American ports to the clearance of the wealth of the world. A port should not operate to yield a return on the investment, but to develop the prosperity of the country." In recapitulating the advantages, Mr. Howe brings out the importance of the free port in developing our shipping and linking us with South America, Asia and Africa, and then concludes:

"The most important gain is the direct gain to America. It will cheapen commodities by bringing great quantities of goods to our doors for importation or export, as trade needs demand. It will stimulate the growth of exporting houses, which can hold goods for an indefinite period without payment of tariff dues (often equal to the cost of the article itself) for disposal to meet the trade demands of the whole world. It will uphold international credit and shift to America an increasing and ultimately a predominant share in international exchange.

"Finally, America is the natural country to be the counter of the world. Its seacoasts face every other continent; it is the center of all reservoirs of raw materials and foodstuffs. In iron and steel and standardized production it is in a position to compete with the world. But international trade (and this is always overlooked) must be reciprocal. It cannot be one-sided. And credit balances cannot for any prolonged period be paid in gold. They can only be paid by exchange of wealth."

STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought Mr. Hughes Would Die, But One Helped Him to Recovery.

Pomeroyton, Ky.—In interesting advices from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die. I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good. I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, and quit taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it.

I have now been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me—haven't had those awful sick headaches since I began using it.

I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me."

Thedford's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for derangements of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest.

HONEST INSPECTOR NOT ENCOURAGED

Local Juries Won't Convict, Says Mrs. Florence Kelley.

SHE WANTS A FEDERAL LAW.

Child labor laws will not be enforced until there is a federal law which the government will enforce. So Mrs. Florence Kelley told the Eleventh Annual Conference on Child Labor at its recent San Francisco meeting. During her wide and varied experience Mrs. Kelley has accumulated many examples of why a state child labor law can never be properly enforced and why the federal government must take a hand in it.

"After a state child labor law is on the statute books the difficulties of the inspectors are only a part of the obstacles that confront the state in getting that law enforced. If an inspector works very hard he is commonly removed—that is, if he works hard and honestly and ably. I have watched inspectors working hard, honestly and ably being removed for thirty-three years. One who does not work hard and ably and honestly will probably be removed anyhow when the politics of the state changes.

"While the inspector is working hard, honestly and is exceedingly difficult to get a law enforced, if prosecution is required, because local magistrates are usually reluctant to enforce it and local juries to uphold it. Some years ago we were prosecuting in a certain sweater who had employed sixteen girls illegally. A dozen witnesses were subpoenaed, and they all swore cheerfully that the law had been kept, although they knew that they had been working illegally that day.

"The justice thought it a merry jest that we could not get warrants against those perjured witnesses. He said, 'If I were going to choke my office up with perjury suits against witnesses in minor cases we would not get any business done,' so those perjured witnesses went scot free."

As a further illustration Mrs. Kelley spoke of the difficulty the New York State Department of Labor has experienced in the past two years in prosecuting canners. The trouble was not with perjured witnesses there, but with local juries. The local juries would not convict because most of them were farmers who sell their goods to the canneries and had no idea of participating in the punishment of their customers. "That condition is so widespread throughout New York, New Jersey, Maryland and Delaware," said Mrs. Kelley, "that there is no present hope of enforcing the child labor law in the canneries of those states with local juries in local courts.

"I do not share the millennial belief that we shall in any near future have our laws obeyed by the agreement of employers and employees in industries in which the employees are unorganized. Laws are obeyed only where there are powerful organizations of workers to compel obedience. But where there is a body of helpless aliens, as in most sweatshops, or in remote villages far from the searchlight of it will take a great deal of evidence to convince me that all employers will voluntarily obey the child labor law. Our immediate need is the passage of a federal child labor law to enable the federal government to enforce the law."

A federal law would not only protect people outside of North Carolina from receiving goods manufactured by children in North Carolina, but it would protect people in that state from having to buy tinned goods from New York.—Owen R. Lovejoy.

If you want to see white children in many southern communities you must go before sunrise and catch them on their way to the cotton mills. Only colored children are to be seen going to and from school.

If the eight hour day really took all children under sixteen out of the factories we should not have to work toward a sixteen year age limit.—Owen R. Lovejoy.

DENY RUSSIAN CLAIMS.

Amsterdam, August 26.—Russian claims of great German losses in the naval battle in the Gulf of Riga are repudiated in a semi-official telegram received from Berlin, which says that no dreadnought or cruisers were sunk or damaged.

CHINESE SACRED HORN NUT.

This Chinese Nut "Linco" grows on a bush under water, and ripens about the time of the feast of the moon. It is said to be sacred, to bring peace and good fortune to all who own them and is the Chinese emblem of good luck. This wonderful nut looks just like the horns of a steer's head. Is about 2-3 inches wide, black, gold tipped and fitted with ring for charm. Worn by ladies and gentlemen. Send a dollar bill for one today, as our supply is limited.

GOVERNORS PASS RESOLUTIONS ASSURING WILSON OF SUPPORT.

Boston, August 26.—Resolutions of confidence and support were sent to President Wilson by Governors of nearly a score of states attending the annual conference of Governors in this city. These resolutions were introduced by Governor Walsh, of Massachusetts, and said:

"The Governors of the several commonwealths of the nation, in conference assembled, desire to tender you an expression of their confidence and support in this hour of deep international concern, and to assure you of their readiness to follow your leadership in all matters which you deem best to promote the honor and maintain the peace and welfare of the nation, and the whole people."

A sharp division of opinion manifested itself at the conclusion of addresses by Governors William H. Mann, of Virginia, Robert L. Williams, of Oklahoma, and Moses Alexander, of Idaho, who urged the extension of the powers of the Governors, when former Governor Alva Adams, of Colorado, took advantage of the opportunity of discussion afforded by the program.

"You would have us drift away from democracy, to drift from the policies of Thomas Jefferson to those of Alexander Hamilton," he stated, "an idea entirely contrary to our ideas of democracy. It is a power that belongs to a monarchy."

Francis E. McGovern, former Governor of Wisconsin, in differing from Mr. Adams, said it was the people who were demanding increased powers for the Governors that they may be made more efficient. He expressed the belief that the Governors' powers might well be increased without encroaching upon the executive branch.

At the suggestion of former Governor Franklin Port, of New Jersey, who was presiding, Gov. James S. Fielder of New Jersey, told of the operation of the short ballot in his state and said that not only were the people satisfied but they would be better pleased if it were shorter.

"MOUND BUILDERS"—SKELETONS ARE UNEARTHED IN A KENTUCKY CITY.

"The Catlettsburg was at one time a burying place for the ill-fated race of people known only as 'Mound Builders,' and who had disappeared and all record of them been lost when white men first landed on this continent, is no more a theory to the younger generation who have listened to the tales of the older inhabitants of this town, who tell of traces of the lost race discovered hereabouts years ago," says the Sandy Valley Call. "Away back in the eighteenth century, according to the oldest inhabitants, when the county road was being laid off, a grave yard of the remains of the once numerous Mound Builders was unearthed here. Recollection of this and similar incidents have been called to mind by the discovery of a skeleton of a Mound Builder while excavating was being done on the river bank a year ago, and still later by the uncovering of another skeleton only last week while excavating for the new Charles Rite residence. Captain Bailey, one of the oldest residents of the county, tells many interesting stories of the finding of skeletons and other relics of this mysterious people who inhabited the Ohio valley long before even the Indians came."

PLEASE GO AWAY AND LET ME DREAM.
New York, August 26.—The New York Tribune expert figures that the Reds could repeat the feat of the Boston Braves last year and win the pennant. The Tribune's expert says: "It was just a year ago today that the Boston Braves, after a wild dash, pulled themselves up even with the Giants and were tied for first place. They dropped back and did not take the lead and hold it until September 7. Over in Brooklyn Cincinnati won the series. It was the eleventh victory out of fourteen games for the Reds and set the dopsters to figuring. If the Reds continue at this eleven-out-of-fourteen pace they probably will win the National League pennant. The battle is so close this year that it is likely that the tug will go to the club that wins eighty-five games. The Reds probably will play forty more games. If they average in those forty games four victories out of five—which is almost the same as eleven out of fourteen—they will finish the season with 85 games won and 48 lost. Their percentage will be .556, which is better than that of the league leader at present."

EASTMAN HELD TO BE ILLEGAL ORGANIZATION.

BUFFALO, N. Y., August 26.—The Eastman Kodak Company, of Rochester, is a monopoly in restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, according to a decision handed down here by Judge John R. Hazel of the United States district court. The decision grants the defendant company an opportunity to present a plan "for the abrogation of the illegal monopoly," on the first day of the November term.

Judge Hazel in his opinion stated that while it appeared that no irreparable hardship would result from a separation of the present business into two or more separate companies, it was not at this time intended to indicate either a dissolution, division or reorganization.

It is no doubt possible, he said, that an adequate measure of relief might result from enjoining the unfair practices of the terms of sale agreement and from a separation of the business; but the defendants should have an opportunity to present to the court on the first day of the 1915 November term, a plan for the abrogation of the illegal monopoly unduly and unconscionably restraining interstate trade and commerce, or if an appeal from this interlocutory decree is taken to the Supreme Court and this decision is affirmed, such a plan is to be presented within sixty days from the filing of the mandate.

The bill was filed June 9, 1913, against the Eastman Kodak Company of New Jersey, Eastman Kodak Company of New York, George Eastman, Henry A. Strong, Walter S. Hubbard, and Frank S. Noble, all of Rochester. The testimony was taken before Judge Hazel both here and in Rochester and comprised upward of three thousand printed pages of testimony and three volumes of printed exhibits. It was finally submitted May 15, 1915.

The bill alleged substantially that from 1902 to 1906 the Eastman Company of New York intentionally monopolized the business of manufacturing and selling cameras, plates, photographic paper and film in the United States by acquiring control of 20 competing concerns which were afterward dissolved, the plants dismantled and their business removed to Rochester.

That the Eastman Kodak Company of New Jersey acquired many stock houses, engaged in different states in selling photographic supplies manufacturing by the defendants and their competitors.

That the defendants, with the intention of monopolizing the importation, acquired the exclusive right to sell in the United States and Canada raw paper stock from European paper mills—a necessity in the manufacture of photographic papers.

That from 1899 to 1908 all Eastman products were sold by dealers under restrictions and with discounts which stifled competition. In 1908 these discounts were discontinued and consequently so-called terms of sale were adopted, limiting dealers to the handling exclusively of Eastman products under penalty of revocation of the right to deal in any of the Eastman commodities.

By the acquisition of properties and enforcement of the terms of sale, it was alleged the defendants acquired the largest percentage of the trade unlawfully restrained such trade and obtained an illegal monopoly.

SIGNS OF DANGER

That Should Be Heeded By Maysville People.

There's serious danger in neglecting any weakness of the kidneys. The warning that Nature gives should not be overlooked. If troubled by too frequent passage of the kidney secretions; burning or scalding; if the secretions are highly colored and contain sediment when left standing—if you have backache, too, with frequent headaches and dizziness, make up your mind that your kidneys are affected and begin using some reliable kidney remedy. Deaths from kidney disease have increased in the United States alone, 72 per cent in the last 20 years. The risk is too great—you can't afford to delay. Maysville people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Can you ask for better proof of merit than the statement of this Maysville resident?

W. F. Lynch, 127 West Third St., Maysville, says: "My kidneys were weak and the passages of the kidney secretions were scanty and painful. Having used Doan's Kidney Pills before, I again got a box and they quickly restored my kidneys to a normal condition."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Lynch had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

REPORT OF VISITING NURSE, MASON COUNTY HEALTH LEAGUE, YEAR 1914-15.

The activities of the league for the fiscal year just ended have been many. Prominent speakers have been employed to prove the necessity for the public health service and to assist in devising ways and means of lifting our county from its lethargy and arousing the citizens to a realization of individual duty. The financial support of the public, the appreciation and loyalty of friends, the gratitude of our many families and the united efforts of our physicians help to lead us to feel that our effort have been worth while. The first duty of a visiting nurse is to nurse; a principle that will perhaps always be adhered to, but if she were concerned simply and solely with the actual nursing she would lose the rich opportunities for helpfulness that confront her at every turn.

The public little realize the equipment of heart, hand and brain she must carry with her to be successful, for when she starts on her busy rounds she does not know whether she will be called upon to act as teacher, relief agent, legal adviser, sanitary inspector or just nurse. Everything that concerns the family is of vital interest to her and the moment she crosses the door step every occupant of the house becomes her charge; the condition of the room and of the entire house, for that matter, is often as important as the patient in bed and if she leaves that home without doing all in her power for helpfulness to better living, she has fallen short of her duty.

During the year 1,294 visits have been made to the sick poor. Think of what that means, think of the obscure places that have been visited, of the comfort and skillful care rendered these unfortunates, but more than that, think of the encouragement carried to the many desolate homes.

In addition to the visits to sick persons 808 visits of various kinds have been made, bringing the total number of visits by the nurse up to 2,102. It is easy to state how many visits the nurse makes in the course of the year, how many patients she sees, but who can tell to what degree she has awakened the dormant self-respect of an afflicted family or aroused a dulled ambition, shamed a mother for her slovenliness or aroused a drunken father to a sense of duty to his wife and children? It is a fine thing that she goes into the filthy home and makes it not only habitable but inviting, but it is a finer thing that by her influence, not only upon the patient, but upon the place and all who dwell in it, she leaves an inspiration to be something a little more and something a little better than they have been.

The work of the visiting nurse, or to use a broader term, public health nurse, is, in the broadest sense, one of preventative education, but to teach some families is very difficult. It is a known fact that many poor ignorant people have a curiously irresponsible way of attributing all their misfortunes to providence, and so over and over again the nurse must teach the fundamental sanitary laws that dirt, foul air and overcrowding their living apartments means sickness, suffering and death. It is only after she has established a strong bond of sympathy and friendship with them, through personal service rendered, that they believe her and follow her counsel.

Our work has grown steadily for the past two years, and if we are to keep pace with the demands for our service we must have the financial support of the citizens of the city and county. If the good people of this community will just stop to consider what ONE DOLLAR will do in our work, I am sure that we will receive many gifts of a single dollar. One dollar pays the cost of two visits to some suffering and often neglected human being; it supplies milk and eggs to a tuberculosis patient for a week; it will supply surgical dressings for a chronic case that must be cared for in the home, for be it said to the shame of our prosperous community, there is no institution to care for our poor, whether acutely sick or chronic.

The year that has just drawn to a close has made many demands on the generous public of the entire country and Mason county has been no laggard in its response to the cry of distress that has come from afar. It is right that we should give of our abundant store to our stricken brethren in foreign lands, but let us not forget the distress and affliction of those within our own gates, let us be heedful of our own maimed and suffering men and of our helpless women and children.

The nursing service of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company has increased somewhat this year, but we still feel there are many of their sick industrial policy holders we do not reach. Our co-operation with them has been a great help to us financially and has also served constantly to open new homes and neighborhoods to us, thereby extending the scope of our work. Our relationship with the company has always been most satisfactory. Respectfully submitted,

ANNIE M. CASEY,
Visiting Nurse.

JAMES H. MEADOWS.

Mr. James H. Meadows, who recently spent several months in this city, died Monday at the home of his father in Reidsville, N. C., after but a week's visit there. For many months he had suffered from a complication of diseases and finding no relief in this section of the country, decided to spend the last at his home.

Mr. Meadows made many friends while in this city who remember him as a man of estimable character.

Mr. Meadows was rather noted in the east as a singer and has visited many of the largest cities in that section, and with a company of singers in 1912 sailed for England and spent two years and a half touring European towns, but was forced to return home owing to his health.

He is survived by his wife, father and one brother. His wife was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, of this city, whom he had been visiting.

COUNTY COURT.

A paper bearing the date of February 1, 1915, said to be the last will and testament of Joseph Sherman, deceased, was produced in court and upon the testimony of the attesting witnesses, Charles Sloop and Charles Smith, it was admitted to probate.

Profit-Sharing With Retail Buyers

On August 1, 1914 we made the announcement that if we could make and sell at retail 300,000 Ford cars between August 1, 1914 and August 1, 1915 we would share profits with the retail purchasers, to the extent of from $40 to $60 on each car. We have sold over 300,000 Ford cars in the time specified, and profit-sharing checks of $50 each will be distributed as rapidly as possible after August 15, 1915. Retail purchasers who have not yet mailed us their profit-sharing coupons, properly endorsed, should do so without delay.

Our plan to profit-share with retail purchasers of Ford cars during 1914-15 has been most successful. We thoroughly believe in it, but, realizing the uncertainty of conditions generally makes it advisable to defer any announcement of future profit-sharing until a later date.

We are however, confident of our inability to reduce costs for several months, and therefore can offer no profit-sharing for cars.
